Characteristics of the student body

Overview

NVSHS is located in the Moreton Bay Region, which is one of the fastest growing areas in Australia, with an annual growth rate twice the national average. Narangba is therefore a growing community with emerging social infrastructure. The socio-economic profile of the school is made up of a significant number of both middle-income earners as well as low-income earners and a small percentage of disadvantaged groups. My School Index of Community Socio-Educational Advantage (ICSEA) data indicates the value of 1011, within range the national average of 1000.

Approximately 75 students at NVSHS are Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander. This constitutes approximately 3.6% of the school population and remains steady when compared to previous data.

NVSHS has an Individual Learning Centre (ILC) which assists staff to cater for students who have a verified disability (Autism Spectrum Disorder, Speech Language Impairment, Intellectual Impairment, Physical Impairment or Visual Impairment) and who, therefore require an Educational Adjustment Profile (EAP)

Note:

The class size targets for composite classes are informed by the relevant year level target. Where composite classes exist across cohorts (e.g. year 3/4) the class size targets would be the lower cohort target.

Curriculum delivery

Our approach to curriculum delivery

- Additional English and Maths lessons as a proactive strategy to improve literacy, numeracy and reading comprehension.
- In addition to Science, SOSE and LOTE (Japanese and French), Junior Secondary students engage in non-core subject areas from Technology, Health and Physical Education and the Arts.
- Students across all year levels undertake a course of development in Student Growth and Development (Health in Junior Secondary) and Assessment preparation and training (Years 10 to 12) to equip them with life and study skills.
- Specialised Academy programs in Dance, Music, AFL and Netball continue to provide opportunities for students to excel in these areas.
- The Science-Mathematics Academy (SMA) supports and challenges advanced students in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) to hone their academic and leadership skills.
- In the senior school, students opt to follow a Tertiary pathway or a Vocational Education and Training (VET) pathway. Students are encouraged to study subjects they are good at and are motivated to learn and to consider value adding to their QCE with the inclusion of VET. Tertiary students are also encouraged to select more than the minimum required for OP / ATAR eligibility in order to maximise their result.
- To support this, our QCS preparation program ensures students are adequately prepared across all of the common curriculum elements.
- In the vocational pathway students can choose from a range of Certificate courses from industry areas of Hospitality, Information and Digital Media Technology, Furnishings, Engineering, Electro Technology, Business and Fitness.
- The Trade Training Centre provides the opportunity for specialised skilling in Automotive and Engineering pathways.
- In addition to these varied options, students can elect to enrol in TAFE courses, apply for school-based traineeships or apprenticeships.
- Indigenous students are supported and encouraged through various programs including QATSIF and provision of tutorials.

Co-curricular activities

Extensive opportunities exist for students to participate in leadership, sporting, public speaking, instrumental music, business forums, live performance productions and a wide range of mathematics, science, technology and humanities competitions.

- Students from the school have been successful at district, state and national levels within these competitions.
- The Student Representative Council is active through its committee structure and involvement in many of the school's special events and publications including Anzac Day, Valley Hi (magazine), Star Quest and Celebration Showcase.
- Sport plays an important role in the school. The House system is particularly competitive in relation to the inter house Swimming and Athletics carnivals. Many students have already been successful in gaining representative honours at District and State level.
- The House system is an integral part of the school's culture. Houses compete for points not only in sporting activities but also through community initiatives such as recycling and earning house points through the exemplification of respect, integrity and commitment to the Narangba Valley School Community.

How information and communication technologies are used to assist learning

NVSHS has invested significant funds in building and maintaining the school's IT infrastructure to improve teaching and learning capacity. The main focus for 2018 was the continuation of the Bring Your Own Device (BYOx) program which began with years 7 and 8 in 2017. In addition to major infrastructure work, significant engagement with our parent community was undertaken, ranging from information sessions to providing advice on device specifications.

The improvements to our infrastructure have allowed our teaching staff to engage in improved digital learning strategies such as virtual classrooms through Office 365 especially OneNote, virtual classrooms in The Learning Place, upgrades to curriculum specific software packages for Graphics, Electronics, Manual Arts, Business, Information Technology, SMA and Visual Arts. NVSHS has further investigated the use of Apple products, specifically the use of iPads and Apple Classroom to connect, share and create workgroups to improve student collaboration.

Our aim is to enhance our curriculum with technology rich resources to transform and enrich content to make learning more accessible, relevant and focused on improvements to student learning in a digital world.

Social climate

Overview

School Opinion Surveys show that parents and students generally feel that staff help the students achieve their academic potential and to develop social skills.

Students are supported by a range of personnel including: 1 Head of School Culture, 5 Heads of House; 2 Guidance Officers; Youth Support Coordinator, Chaplain, School-based Youth Health Nurse; 2 Behaviour Support teachers along with Heads of Department for Effective Teaching & Learning, Junior Secondary, Senior Secondary and 5 Deputy Principals who oversee each house..

NVSHS is currently focusing on the Health and Well-being domain to meet emerging needs in young adolescence, including physical and mental health. This program is created and revised with the input of many support staff and overseen by the Guidance Officers. The school has an active positive behaviour process and programs are regularly arranged by the Health and Wellbeing Committee to monitor and address emerging issues.

Parent and community engagement

The school hosts a number of events and activities which provide an opportunity to involve parents and carers in the education of their children. Academic progress is formally reported to parents four times a year and parent / teacher interviews are conducted twice annually. The school publishes a fortnightly newsletter and a biannual magazine to keep parents and the community informed of school events. Parents are formally invited to attend faculty showcase and subject selection evenings to assist in the planning of their child's learning journey. Each student and their parents or carers are interviewed during the preparation of their Senior Education and Training Plan (SETP) during year 10. Furthermore, celebrate the successes of students in their learning, the school informs parents and carers of these commendable achievements. The annual awards evening (Celebration Showcase) is always very well attended by parents and carers.

Consultation for adjustments centres around the use of Individual Support Plans (ISP). Draft copies of the ISP are sent to parents for them to annotate and comment on. The agreed ISP detailing the adjustments are uploaded to One School. Editing of the ISP can be made at any time during the course of the students' time at school.

P&C meetings are conducted each month and parents are invited to attend these and contribute to the school's operations and strategy.

Parents and community are provided with regular social media updates through Facebook, with the weekly Principal update and special events becoming popularly read items. The school's website also provides up to date information, with the School App being the source of quickly accessible information.

These include solar systems for energy consumption, water tanks for water conservation, printing and paper usage conservation and recycling. Communication to parents has also been digitized to reduce our environmental footprint through the publication of an online newsletter, creation of a school app, electronic reports, electronic notifications to parents, electronic invoices and digital roll marking systems.

Description of how this school manages non-attendance

Queensland state schools manage non-attendance in line with the Queensland Department of Education procedures: Managing Student Absences and Enforcing Enrolment and Attendance at State Schools; and Roll Marking in State Schools, which outline processes for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

Non-attendance is managed in state schools in line with the Department of Education procedures, Managing Student Absences and Enforcing Enrolment and Attendance at State Schools and Roll Marking in State Schools, which outline processes for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

Narangba Valley SHS uses an extensive range of targeted strategies to ensure student attendance is maximised:

- Daily attendance is recorded electronically during form classes (8:30 – 8:40 am), with parents notified via SMS when students are marked absent.
- Heads of House track students' attendance for their House and help to monitor students arriving late to school for the first 20 min of each day and enforce consequences for unexplained late arrivals
- Heads of House investigate all partial day absences and identify students with regular patterns of whole day absences and enforce consequences
- Student services monitors students with unexplained absences and issues correspondence to parent requesting explanation.
- The Truancy Officer identifies students with chronic and developing attendance patterns and makes initial contact with parents to determine the nature and issues relating to the absences.
- 'At risk' students are referred to the student support services (Youth Support Councillor, School Nurse, Chaplain, Guidance officers DPs and Attendance Officer) to develop individualised programs for each student-family focusing on re-engagement and supporting underlying issues.
- Targeted campaigns are used across the year to increase parent awareness of the negative impact absences have on academic success through the school newsletter, Facebook, direct correspondence and SMS text messages.

The Principal and Deputy Principals coordinate a targeted approach to raising the bar for student attendance. Our attendance goal for 2018 was 92%. We will continue to drive and lift the bar for attendance as 'every day counts' in a student's education

Student destinations

The Queensland Department of Education conducts annual surveys that capture information about the journey of early school leavers and Year 12 leavers from school to further study and employment.

Early school leavers

The destinations of young people who left this school in Year 10, 11 or before completing Year 12 are described below.

Narangba Valley SHS supports students who can demonstrate that they have secured their future by gaining employment following compulsory schooling. A small number of students leave school following year 10 and during year 11 and 12 to take up apprenticeships, traineeships and other employment. A small number of students also leave the school as a result of changing family circumstances or other personal reasons.

Next Step – Post-school destinations

The results of the 2019 Next Step post-school destinations survey, Next Step – Post-School Destinations report (information about students who completed Year 12 in 2018), will be uploaded to this school's website in September 2019.

To maintain privacy and confidentiality of individuals, schools with fewer than five responses will not have a report available.

This school's report will be available at
